Living, Loving The Life At Kalākaua

Every resident who becomes part of the Kalākaua Gardens 'ohana has a unique, engaging story. They are all accomplished individuals with memorable life experiences and rewarding careers, heroes and heroines in their own right.

They have traveled the world. They have rubbed elbows with other local business icons. They are the proud parents of Hawai'i's business and community leaders. We are honored they chose Kalākaua Gardens and it's a privilege to serve these seniors. They are kūpuna in every sense of the word, mentors and guides full of wisdom for this generation.

It's no surprise that Kalākaua Gardens doesn't fit preconceived notions of senior care. Vibrant and energizing are the words that our residents often use to describe Kalākaua Gardens, a senior living community located at the gateway to Waikīkī and Ala Moana.

Our team, which celebrated its sixth anniversary of serving seniors and their families last month, ensures every resident at Kalākaua Gardens continues to thrive as they enter another new chapter in their lives. Whether these seniors join us for independent living, become an assisted living or memory care resident, or need skilled nursing care, we want each one to have the best quality of life.

Our residents are treated as guests. No detail is insignificant. Recognizing that each resident is unique, we pride ourselves on providing individualized services, with health and wellness programs and activities tailored to their preferences and interests.

Although we strive to create a welcoming environment at Kalākaua Gardens, we recognize there are many who may have a difficult time making the transition. Many seniors may prefer the familiarity of their own home and fear they will lose their independence. That's not the case at Kalākaua Gardens.

Residents often will say, "Why didn't I move here sooner?" They also offer

We strive to always be kind, serve others with joy, inspire respect, live with honor and continuously improve.

cautionary wisdom: Instead of waiting for a health crisis that requires hasty decisions, start planning early and explore different options.

Kalākaua Gardens invites you to do your homework, take a tour and hear from our residents. Our friendly, dedicated team members embrace a heart for service and a passion for living. We strive to always be kind, serve others with joy, inspire respect, live with honor and continuously improve. We believe each individual is a living treasure of unequalled importance.
